

Eleanor Palmer Primary School

Classteacher for September 2024 Main Pay Scale (ECTs welcome to apply)

We are looking for a dedicated, inspiring teacher, with a love of learning, to join our team. The successful candidate will share our values and ethos, our passion for primary teaching, and our commitment to provide the best possible education for every child in our community.

At Eleanor Palmer we actively look for a diverse staff team. We value the diversity of thought, insights, innovation and creativity that this brings to our learning community and to our pupils. We are committed to our anti-racist strategy, to being fair and inclusive, and to being a place where everyone wants to work, remain and progress, irrespective of race, gender, disability or religion.

Eleanor Palmer is an outstanding primary school which develops teaching and learning collaboratively with colleagues in Camden and beyond. We lead Camden Learning's Primary Maths Hub and we are an associate school in the EEF North London Research School Alliance. This is a rare opportunity to join our happy and stable team.

We are looking for someone who wants to join a school with a well-established, enriched and carefully designed curriculum and who will think deeply about how to bring this to life in the classroom, using their individual strengths and those of our pupils. Being a one-form entry primary school allows teachers to shape and lead their own class team, while being part of a very reflective, collegiate whole school team dedicated to continual learning and professional development. We will support your development through a programme of carefully designed in-house and external training, and we expect to learn from your unique strengths and experience too.

At Eleanor Palmer, we have:

- a socially and ethnically diverse inclusive school community in which no child is left behind;
- pupils who are excited to learn, who are informed about the world, and who feel safe and ready to progress;
- a teaching culture characterised by collaboration, innovation, creativity and continuous learning;
- a collaborative team in which all voices are heard and there are high levels of trust;
- a well-designed and well-cared for single storey building including a science lab - our most recent addition is a calming sensory space and nurture room;
- a financial commitment to enrichment, including specialist art, music and PE teachers, and a wide variety of trips and residential, which deepens children's knowledge;

- well established partnerships with Camden Learning, the IOE and national networks;
- an engaged whole school community with lots of traditions and special events;
- Co-headteachers - a leadership model that is a first for Camden's primaries; and
- very good public transport links moments away – Tufnell Park Station on the Northern Line and a short walk to Thameslink and Overground stations.

To request an application pack, for an informal discussion about the role and/or to arrange a visit (which we strongly encourage), please telephone or e-mail the school (admin@eleanorpalmer.camden.sch.uk).

We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, and we expect all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. Any successful applicant will be subject to a DBS check.

- Closing date: Monday 11th March
- Shortlisting: Wednesday 13th March
- Interviews: Week commencing 18th March

Shortlisted candidates will be notified by telephone. No agencies please.

Eleanor Palmer Primary School, Lupton Street, London, NW5 2JA
Tel: 020-7485-2155 www.eleanorpalmer.camden.sch.uk
Co-headteachers - Sally Hill & Natalie Stevenson