

AN EXCEPTIONAL COMMUNITY SCHOOL IN CAMDEN FOR CHILDREN AGED 3-11

Eleanor Palmer Primary School, Lupton Street, Camden NW5 2JA
Headteacher to start in September 2021, full-time, permanent Group 2:L8-21 (£56,576 - £74,208*)

with potential for uplift (dependent on experience) (*subject to change in line with national pay increase)

Our school is successful, popular and located in a lively and diverse inner London borough with a great tradition of community schools that work together. Our supportive parent community has high expectations for their children. The school, has established a reputation for excellence and inclusion in teaching and learning. The children are happy, highly capable and engaged.

Our headteacher is retiring after 18 highly successful years. We are looking for a headteacher to lead our talented team of teachers and staff, and to inspire in our children a love of learning, confidence and ambition to achieve.

We want an inspirational and reflective leader who will develop their own vision in partnership with the governors. You will ensure that the school builds on its strengths and maintains the drive to continually improve and develop. It is important to us that the culture of the school promotes justice, fairness and equality and develops and values every child's individual needs and talents.

You will need to be an open-minded and outward-facing practitioner, whose knowledge of teaching and learning is driven by evidence and who is keen to share and collaborate with others. You will be able to step into a strong existing operation and ensure it builds on that for the benefit of our children and the wider family of Camden schools.

This is a rare opportunity for an existing head with excellent leadership ability, or for an exceptional deputy who can demonstrate that they have the capability to take the next step in their career.
